FRANKFORT MATTERS.

BALLOT EIGHT LEAVES THE SENATORIAL SITUATION UNSETTLED.

Sound Money Democrats Give "Dick, Tom and Harry" Complimentary Votes—The Race for Librarian—Nominations Made—Prize Fighting a Felony.

Special to the Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., 3 p. m. Jan. 30.—The vote this afternoon for Senator resulted as follows: Hunter, 64; Blackburn, 56; Carlisle, 5; Buckner, 2; Grace, 1; Holt, 1; Hazellrig, 1; Brown, 1. For Librarian: Miss Guy, 66; Mrs. Sheldon, 66.

MARSE HENRI COMPLIMENTED.

Tuesday's Vote Failed to Change the Situation.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 28.—The sixth ballot of the joint session of the Legislature was taken to-day. There was the same interested crowd present when the roll was called. A call of the roll showed 132 members present and voting. The following pairs were announced: Gross, Democrat, with Jones, Republican; Gilliam, Republican, with Swinford, Democrat. The sixth ballot resulted: Hunter, 65; Blackburn, 56; Henry Watterson, 9; John Young Brown, 1; Wilson, 1—total, 132.

The sound money Democrats voted to-day for Henry Watterson and are seemingly as far as ever from Blackburn. Representative Grider, Republican, of Casey, was so deeply immersed in his correspondence that he voted for Blackburn. The crowd applauded until Mr. Grider changed his vote to Hunter. Populist Pore's vote for John Young Brown was applauded.

The Assembly adjourned until noon to-morrow.

The investigation of the contested seats of four Democratic Senators resolved upon by the Republican caucus of the House will not begin until after Feb. 6. A bill making prize fighting a felony was passed by the Senate.

FEMALE PHYSICIAN APPOINTED.

Other Nominations Sent to the Senate by the Governor.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 29.—The Governor sent to the Senate the following nominations:

To be second assistant Physician at the Western Asylum for the Insane, at Hopkinsville. Mrs. Katherine Hauser.

For Third Assistant Physician, A. F. Stanley.

For Commissioner of same institution, M. D. Meacham, vice C. F. Jarrett.

For Commissioner Eastern Asylum, Henry C. McDowell, vice S. W. Whitney. J. D. Hunt and R. H. Stoll, re-appointed.

MORE EMPTY HONORS.

Still No Election of Senator, and Librarian Candidates Go Neck to Neck.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 29.—The Senate met a half hour earlier this morning and disposed of considerable routine work before the joint session hour.

The roll-call showed absent only Dr. Furnish and Mr. Henton paired; present 134; necessary to a choice, 68. The roll-call for votes resulted: Hunter 66, Blackburn 57, Buckner 9, Wilson 1 and Brown 1.

Mr. Pore again voted for John Young Brown. The vote for Librarian was given a tie—67 to 67.

Complimentary to Dr. Stone.

During almost two years of professional services rendered in the Western-Kentucky Asylum for the insane, I have been indeed forcibly impressed with the efficient and commendable administration of the Superintendent, B. W. Stone. His kindness of disposition, charitable and benevolent dealings with those entrusted to his care, his high christian character, and his always active beneficence has established a tie of relationship both in and outside of this institution, that will never be broken. It will certainly be a pleasure to us who have been subject to the political revolution in Kentucky when the time comes to our departure, to look back with pride to the administration of Dr. Stone, with its many improvements, standing as a monument to his memory, which time alone can define and crumble. He leaves it in a condition that has never before been attained, due regard being paid to his predecessor, and this of itself is sufficient proof to enable us to speak in the highest term of praise in behalf of his entire administration. Our best wishes go with him.

AMONG THE PINEAPPLES.

The Editors Away Down in The Florida Peninsula.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26.—The stay of the National Editorial Association at St. Augustine was brought to an end Saturday morning. On Friday night there was a swell dinner at Ponce de Leon, followed by a dance and collation at the Alcazar casino. The cars pulled out at 9 o'clock Saturday for this place, 283 miles South and the lowest point we have been so far. After a run of three hours, a stop was made at Daytona on the Halifax river, four miles from Ormond. Daytona is in my opinion the prettiest town I have ever seen in Florida. The reception there was most cordial. The town has about 1200 inhabitants and probably as many more visitors who are spending the winter at the hotels and boarding houses. The entire population seemed to be at the depot and a hundred or more vehicles were filled with editors and a drive was taken over the town. The streets were shell roads that ran down long avenues of live oaks from which hung a luxuriant growth of moss, a living drapery of lead colored festoons. Most beautiful scenes were passed and all of them were decorated with flags and flowers and the people stood in the yards waving their hats and handkerchiefs as the crowd passed by. The gentlemen were many of them on foot, as there were not enough carriages for all. A party of seven or eight who returned to the cars and proceeded to Ormond, where a stop was made for a day. At Daytona the writer was one of a party of seven or eight who fell into the hands of Mr. Chas. Balough. After driving over town with the rest of the party, the occupants of his vehicles were taken across the Halifax river a mile or more to the Halifax Club House, a charming resort just finished and opened for business by Messrs. Post & Ballough. They have built an elegant little hotel on handsomely improved grounds overlooking the broad Halifax, which is merely an inlet from the sea, that is only a mile away across a narrow peninsula. An avenue of palmetto trees extends from river to sea, the broad and well improved road being lighted with electricity from the plant near the hotel. The hotel was decorated with palms and flowers, the former gathered from the woods surrounding the house and the latter cut from the gardens in front. On every hand there was an air of comfort, elegance and ease. Thirty or forty boarders were already in the house, although it had not been formally opened. After dinner the proprietors escorted us over the beautiful grounds and took us to the observatory on top of the hotel where a fine view was obtained of the picturesque landscape. A pretty driveway ran in front through a park where orange trees were growing under the stately pines and beds of blooming roses raised only in hot houses in Kentucky were flourishing in the open air. The gardens were between the park and the river where all of the vegetables of May were supplying the hotel tables. Radishes, green peas, cabbage, ripe tomatoes and lettuce were seen and tried. Potatoes were up and growing several inches out of the ground. Mrs. Ballough soon joined the little party and gathered bouquets for the ladies from the garden surrounding her own cottage on the river bank. Down in the edge of the river was an oyster bed, where some of the bivalves were taken from their native element and eaten raw from the shell. We also visited the bathing pool near by, where the water was heated by steam and the building lighted by electricity, but we did not have the time to accept the invitation to take a plunge in the brine. The carriages were then brought out and we were driven down the beautiful palmetto avenue and four miles up the hard sandy beach to Ormond, where we joined the party again. This beach is said to be the finest long beach in the world. For 25 miles it is as smooth as a floor and almost bare of sand. It is from 50 to 100 feet wide, according to the tide, and opens gently to the sea, being almost level. It is said that a highway of vehicles of all kinds and makes a bicycle course that could not be improved upon anywhere. On the way up I found a lot of stranded ducks on the beach, having been brought ashore by the breakers, and as it cannot get about on land, I caught it before it could escape. It showed fight and uttered a plaintive cry when taken. It is as large as a goose and of beautiful plumage. It is still alive, but I may get tired of it and turn it loose before I get home. Many wild ducks were also seen riding the waves within a few yards of the coast.

The cars remained at Ormond until Sunday afternoon and as there were two churches in the little town many of the visitors attended the morning service. After lunch at the splendid Ormond Hotel, owned by the Flagler railroad company on whose line we are now traveling, the journey was resumed. But few President D., Griffin Gunn.

D. Griffin Gunn, D. D. brother of Dr. J. A. Gunn, of the city, who went West about fifteen years ago, is making great success in his far away home. Dr. Gunn is now President of the St. Louis, Oklahoma and Texas railroad, his headquarters at Tucuman, O. T. The work of grading the new road is now in progress and a connection with the Frisco, at Sapulpa, will be made by spring. Of Dr. Gunn and the enterprise the Oklahoman has this to say:

"Dr. Gunn, the president of the railway, is backed by some of the strongest men in the country. So quickly has the syndicate been formed that many think so great progress, in so short a time, is impossible, but we learn that busy hands and heads have been at work on it for six months or more. It indeed seems a marvelous success."

Will Consume Monday.

Owing to the illness of Judge Barr, the session of the United States Court, which was to have been begun Monday morning at Owensboro, was postponed until next Monday. The illness of the Judge is not considered serious, but his headquarters at Owensboro. Messrs. B. D. Eddins, of Fairview, W. S. Cheatham, of Longview, and J. W. Armstrong and Alex Gililand, of this city, jurors selected from this county, have returned home and will not go back to Owensboro until Sunday.

Fell Down a Flight of Stairs.

Miss Cuttie Roach, the daughter of Mr. R. W. Roach, of near Montgomery, met with a serious accident a few mornings ago. The young lady was coming down a flight of stairs and was looking backward at the same time she was making the descent of the steps, when she fell a distance of about seven feet, breaking her right arm at the elbow and cutting a gash in the top of her head about three inches in length, necessitating the stitching of the wound. She was getting along as well as could be expected.

Has Gone to Europe.

Yesterday morning Dr. B. W. Stone left for Louisville to join Dr. Eaton a party of friends, who will take a long trip through Europe. The party will sail from New York on the sixth day of February, and before returning home will visit all the places of interest in Italy, Spain, Egypt and other countries. When Dr. Stone returns to America he will establish somewhere in this State a private institution for the treatment of insanity. It is likely that this asylum will be located near Louisville, but Dr. Stone may conclude to erect the building near the city. He will be absent about six months in Europe.

Offerings of the Week.

There is nothing new to report in the tobacco market this week. Offerings were made up largely of non-descript goods and prices were about the same as last week. Following this season it is expected that some good leaf will make his appearance in a week or two. Receipts are good and on the increase. Sales on the loose market fairly good.

Date Definitely Fixed.

The Executive Committee of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition has decided to postpone the big show until May, 1897. It is probable the stockholders at a meeting to be held in Nashville February 7 will clinch the decision.

Floor Taken a Rise.

Owing to a slight rise in wheat, the price of flour in the local market has advanced 15 cents per barrel. The local millers are now paying 65 cents a bushel for good wheat, but about all the grain has been bought up in this section.

Supervisors Still in Session.

The Counting Board of Supervisors is still in session and will not adjourn until this afternoon. A large number of complaints have been laid before the Board and they have been kept quite busy every day this week.

Dr. Letcher Takes The Oath.

Dr. Ben Letcher, of Henderson, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Asylum here, was sworn in yesterday, and immediately took form at charge of the institution. He will move his family here Monday.

A LYNCHING BEE.

Negro Desperado Summarily Dealt With By an Armed Mob.

Monday night Conductor McCullough, a brother-in-law of Mr. Allan M. Wallis, of this city, was shot and seriously wounded by Alex Jones a negro desperado of West Virginia. Jones boarded McCullough's train, near Keystone, W. Va., in an intoxicated condition and was so boisterous that the conductor threatened to eject him. This enraged the negro and he pulled two revolvers and commenced firing promiscuously through the train. When the smoke cleared away it was found that W. H. Strother, postmaster at Elkhorn, W. Va., had been killed. Capt. McCullough had been shot in the side, with a Ricoe coil, had received a probable fatal wound in the breast. Jones was arrested and while on a train en route to Huntington for his trial, a mob of 100 armed men, flagged the train at Hewphill, and took him in charge and swung him to a tree near by. His body was then riddled with bullets. Jones it is said had killed three men prior to his last offence. Conductor McCullough was married. Miss Annie Rose, of Louisville, a sister of Mrs. Allan M. Wallis, of this city, and is well known here. His injury may prove fatal.

V. F. S. C. Anniversary Service.

Sunday Feb. 2 is the fifteenth anniversary of the formation of the Christian Endeavor Society, and in commemoration of the event a service will be held in this Christian church, which will be one of the most enjoyable services ever held here, under the auspices of this society. A program, arranged by one of the ablest men in the county, and published by the United Society, has been secured. This program, in which all who attend can participate, consists of responsive readings, songs, etc., and when carried out, will make a thoroughly enjoyable service. Two of the features of the meeting will be the singing by an excellent male quartet and a song by the little flock. The public is cordially welcome. The meeting will be at 6 o'clock.

Davess County Session.

OWENSBORO Ky., Jan. 27.—A sensation which has been brewing for some time culminated tonight in the arrest of Dr. P. T. Rhodes, a prominent physician of Nashville, this county, charged with murdering Jared Robinson, a wealthy farmer and neighbor, last July. Rhodes is also suspected of the murder of his wife, who died shortly before the death of Robinson. Rhodes was attending Robinson in a spell of illness, and it is claimed poisoned him. On October 11 following, Rhodes and Mrs. Robinson were secretly married in Jeffersonville, Ind., and at once converted Robinson's entire estate into money, collecting $5,000 insurance and announced that they were going to Mexico.

Died of Heart Disease.

A. M. Vaughn, whose home was at Russell Springs, Ky., and who traveled for Phillips, Bailey & Co., of Nashville, was found dead in Wayne county Monday. The circumstances indicate that he got out of his buggy to drink from a stream and was stricken with heart trouble. His head was almost submerged in the water. Mr. Vaughn was about fifty-five years of age and a Mason of high standing. He leaves a wife and child, and carried a life insurance of $25,000. This city was included in his policy. The body was taken to the coroner's office and he often visited here, and was well known among the merchants.

Bishop Dudley Sued.

An Episcopal church, to cost about $10,000, has been under course of construction at Beattyville, Ky., and J. R. Fisher, the original contractor, is alleged to have given up the work some month ago without settling with the employees. It is claimed that during last fall Bishop T. U. Dudley sanctioned a new contract and work was resumed under a new contractor. The Bishop claims that the former workmen must look to Fisher for their pay, but the new contractor claims that the Bishop is the party in default against the Bishop in the Bell County Circuit Court.

Blood Hounds After the Fend.

Last Monday an unknown negro attended an assault on the person of Mrs. Louis Keen, a respectable white woman at Henderson. She is only fifteen years old. Deputy Marshal Atkinson put blood hounds on the fender's track and they followed the trail in the neighborhood of Uniontown but up to yesterday no arrest had been made.

Prospects of Further Delay.

Senator J. W. Ogilvie is reported as not so well. Since last Friday he has been doing rather poorly. He is discouraged and this fact tells on him. Mr. Ogilvie hoped to be able to go to Frankfort by the 6th of next month, but he will hardly be able to do this.—Paducah News.

STARVING PARIS DOCTORS.

Not Enough Patients—Free Hospitals Out into the Practice of Many Physicians.

A double suicide, which shocked Paris the other day, brought to the attention of the public the financial straits in which, it is said, the majority of the physicians of that city live.

The New York World, Dr. Arnaud de Langlard, an old physician, who had been decorated by the government for brave conduct during the cholera epidemic many years ago, committed suicide with his wife because his practice had dwindled to the vanishing point and starvation was staring them in the face.

In commenting upon the tragedy several newspapers asserted that in Paris not more than one doctor out of five is able to make more than the barest living. Among the causes of this poverty among physicians is the destitution of most of their patients. Medical science has made such great strides, too, that maladies of all sorts are now more quickly cured, and such precautions are taken to prevent the spread of contagious diseases that epidemics are becoming practically unknown.

The number of doctors, on the other hand, has rapidly increased. Another reason why there is not practice enough to go around is that in many of the hospitals people can be treated for nothing or at a very nominal figure. Many of these hospitals have training schools, which are free, in which are taught the rudiments of medicine and surgery. These schools are largely attended by many sick people are taken in hand at their own homes by some members of the family who has profited by this instruction.

HOLES IN THE CANVAS.

An Important Discovery Increasing the Efficacy of Sails.

An Italian sea captain, Gio Battista Vassallo, of Genoa, has made a very interesting innovation in the use of sails of ordinary sailing vessels. He claims, says the Philadelphia Record, that the force of wind cannot fully take effect in a sail, since the air in front of it cannot properly circulate in the inflated part, remains stationary immediately in front of part of the sail proper. He avoids this stagnation of air, he calls it, by the application of a number of small holes in that part of the sail where the depression is deepest when it is filled; these holes are reinforced like a buttonhole so that they will not tear.

Trials made in various waters have resulted as follows: With a light wind, a boat with ordinary sails made four knots, while the new sail increased speed to six knots. In a fresh breeze the respective speeds were seven and eight knots; and in a strong wind they were eight and ten knots per hour. It stands to reason that the doing away with a layer of air, which cannot escape past the sides of the sail, must increase the efficiency of the sailcloth. When the wind formerly struck a cushion of air which acted like a spring mattress, decreasing the actual pressure of the wind against the canvas, the current of air now strikes the sail direct, and, of course, has a greater efficiency. Vassallo has received much encouragement from practical sailors as well as the theoretical scientists.

PECULIAR RETAINING FEE.

John Chiselman Had It Arranged Before He Perpetrated the Crime.

Col. A. T. Vogelzang, the attorney, is regarded as one of the best prosecutors of the legal profession. In the Palace grillroom recently, says the San Francisco Call, he let out a string of anecdotes. He said that a few weeks ago Dennis Spencer, the Nepe hunsbury, was called upon by a Chinaman one evening, when the following dialogue occurred:

"The Chinaman: Kill another Chinaman with a hatchet; how much you charge make him clear?"

"'Til take the case,' said Mr. Spencer, 'for $1,000.'"

"'All right,' said the Chinaman, 'I'll be back after while.'"

In about a week he returned to Mr. Vogelzang's office and laid down $1,000 in gold coin on his table. Mr. Spencer swept the money into the trash.

"Well, the Chinaman, he dead?"

"Who killed him?"

"'I did.'"

"When did you kill him?"

"Last night."

"There was some curiosity on the part of the audience for the further light on the disposition of the $1,000, but Mr. Vogelzang immediately spun off on to another story."

VENUS FLY CATCHER IN THE WORLD.

ten inches in height and is of very delicate growth, soon dying of the slightest injury to its stem or root.

W. A. Manilla, the expert florist, who has made many collections of the plant for various botanical societies, says that it is to be found in only two spots in the world—around Wilmington, N. C., and Raleigh, N. C. In ten years, he says, it will be probably extinct, and is even now exceedingly rare.

Strangely enough, a plant inclosed so that no insects could get to it, will live longer and thrive better than one well supplied with flies. A flesh diet renders it exceedingly delicate, and furnishes another argument for the vegetarian society. Darwin analyzed the juices of the trap and found that they resembled the gastric juices in an animal, giving an action and dissolving rapidly small pieces of beef, cheese, etc.

The muscles actuating the lids of the traps strongly resemble in their action those of a human being. By making an incision and dividing what seemed to answer for nerves in the stalk of the trap the leaves became paralyzed and would not shut. These facts appear to show that the Venus fly trap comes nearer to animal life than any form of vegetation known.

Many scientists have studied the plant and say that it undoubtedly thrives on juices of the slaughtered insects. Mr. Manilla, who is an authority on the plant, says that the idea of the plant living thus is all nonsense, and claims that the insects are responsible for the killing of the plant. The so-called gastric juices, he says, nature's effort in behalf of the plant to get rid of the trap, is a futile endeavor. However, why the fly trap spreads attractions to beguile the insects to their doom.

Anderton says that he saw specimens in Florida of the Dionaea of enormous size and big enough to digest birds. Nobody else has seen them. The general impression is that he was mistaken.

Phosphorus in the Brain.

The human brain contains a considerable proportion of phosphorus, varying from one-twentieth to one-thirtieth of the entire mass. It is the average weight of the Caucasian brain is taken at 47½ ounces, it will then contain an amount of phosphorus amounting from 7-10 grains. A curious fact regarding this phosphorus in the human brain is that it is almost entirely wanting in the brain matter of idiots. It has also been noted that the brain power depends to some extent, at least, on the number and depth of the convolutions in the brain mass. Halfway down the brain, however, is the seat of intelligence the fewer and shallower these convolutions become—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE KEELY MOTOR.
General Interest Has Been Revived in That Mechanical Mystery.
The announcement that John Jacob Astor has evinced great interest in the Keely motor has revived general interest in that mechanical mystery, which has been the subject of discussion in the scientific world for a quarter of a century.

JOHN E. KEELY.

being that the new force is so vast and powerful that after years of labor he is just completing the mastery of the rudiments of its principles and nature. He promises, however, that early in the year 1905 its powers will be given a public and simple demonstration.

Probably $300,000 have been spent by the stockholders in the company organized twenty-four years ago to put the Keely discoveries to the test, and these gentlemen are themselves ignorant of the exact nature of the force. The belief is very general that the whole thing is a gigantic delusion, and yet there are scientific men of high standing who do not so denounce it. Several mechanical experts of excellent repute, moreover, have declared from personal investigations in Keely's laboratory in Philadelphia that results he shows there which could not have been produced by compressed air or steam, hydraulic pressure or electricity.

These results are interesting. An experiment has been ten-pound weights float up and down, pause, and move in various directions in a jar of water, with no apparent influence brought to bear on them except that of musical notes given on a tuning-fork and repeated and relayed by a musical apparatus near by. Apparently by this same strange music a steel shell weighing several tons was raised from the floor to the top of a tripod six feet high, there being no mechanical apparatus in view but a small box which was connected with the shell by a wire. According to the philosophy by which Keely explains these strange phenomena, every mass has its musical chord, and if this chord is struck so that there will be more than 40,000 vibrations in a second, the force of gravity will be overcome and the weight will become obedient to the influences of the musical notes. Of course, this seems absurd, and yet the results remain. Scientific men have been astonished and puzzled; capitalists have invested their money.

The Keely motor, says Demme's Magazine, is either a monumental fraud or one of the greatest discoveries the world has yet known. Either contingency makes Keely, who is a large man of impressive presence, one of the remarkable figures of the century.

PRETTY MRS. DIMMICK.
The Lady Reported Afflicted to Her Death by a Fatal Case of Consumption.

by those who were frequent visitors at the white house during its occupancy by Mr. Harrison and his family. Mrs. Dimmick now resides in New York, and it is believed, is the magnet which draws the distinguished statesman so frequently to that city. She is the niece of the late Mr. Harrison and her presence added much to the charm of the social life of the last administration. She was extremely popular and scarcely less esteemed than Mrs. Harrison, whose graciousness and sweet nature of manner won the friendship of all who met her. Mrs. Harrison died October 25, 1892, and through the long and tedious illness her devoted husband was greatly grieved in his patient vigil at her bedside by Mrs. Dimmick.

Bishop Vincent's Latest Idea.
The latest Chautauque project is Bishop Vincent's "Hall of Christ," which is to be devoted wholly to "him who is the center of our civilization," as Dr. Vincent says. The hall is to contain a hall where the life of Christ can be studied, with seats for 500. A library containing nothing but lives of Christ, and a gallery for paintings and engravings of scenes in the life of Christ.

A man's life may be saved in many ways. A man may commit suicide in a great many ways. Shooting himself through the head is no more certain than neglecting his health. If a man says he would take prompt and vigorous measures to save him, but the same man might see his husband on the verge of disease and death without lifting the serious matter of his health to the people who die, die of consumption. Consumption doesn't come all at once. It is insidious. The seeds are seemingly insignificant. Most people do not know how it starts. Thousands of people are on the road to consumption and don't know it. When there is loss of flesh—paleness—easily finds a foot-hold in a weakened body. Low vitality, impure or poor blood, imperfect digestion, nervousness, sleeplessness—all these lead to consumption.

Taken in time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prevent the development of the disease. Taken according to directions, it will positively and perfectly cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption, whether incipient or fully developed. Consumption is a disease of the blood. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a cure for all blood diseases, no matter in what part or how they manifest themselves.

If you want to know all about it, and what it has done for other people, send twenty-cent (21) one-cent stamps to cover the cost of mailing only for a FREE COPY OF DR. PIERCE'S "GOLDEN MEDICAL ADVISER." Every family should have a copy of this book for ready reference. Write to Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

FUN FOR BANK CLERKS.

They Say to Each Other That a Portrait on a Check Means Good News Very Short. It is related in the New York Mail and Express that a New York merchant has a portrait of himself engraved on his checks, so that when he pays a bill his creditor has the additional pleasure of gazing upon the counterfeited presentation of the payer. These checks go to different cities and pass through various banks and clearing houses. In the parlance of the variety actor, the bank clerks "do not do a thing to them."

When the gentleman who thus advertises himself as a St. Louis business man to construct a gravel walk, it has been long a St. Louis business man to construct a gravel walk, neither long nor strikingly beautiful, that is a modern, if comparatively humble, rival of the famous high-ways of fiction and fable, for they represent $15,000 in hard cash. The manager of a St. Louis coffee company is a proud possessor of this unique walk. It is composed of several tons of Brazilian pebbles, that came to him in an ordinary business way during the last few years.

VALUABLE GRAVEL WALK.

Man Gets a Fine Avenue Out of False Weights in Coffee Bags. It has been long a St. Louis business man to construct a gravel walk, neither long nor strikingly beautiful, that is a modern, if comparatively humble, rival of the famous high-ways of fiction and fable, for they represent $15,000 in hard cash. The manager of a St. Louis coffee company is a proud possessor of this unique walk. It is composed of several tons of Brazilian pebbles, that came to him in an ordinary business way during the last few years.

These are heavy importers of Brazilian coffee. Before the berries are ready to be roasted for the market the beans are opened and the contents carefully examined for twigs, leaves and other impurities, the latter generally taking the shape of small pebbles about the size of a coffee berry. These came with such regularity and in such quantities that long ago the idea that they were accidentally in the sacks was abandoned, and the conclusion reluctantly reached that they were purposely placed in the bags to make weight. The daily discoveries of these Brazilian pebbles, which are paid for as coffee, will fill an ordinary bucket. They are still added to the gravel path as they come in.

LONG AND PERILOUS RIDE.

An Officer and His Horse Show Wonderful Endurance and Courage. The Russian Kogak officer, Kenko, who last June undertook to ride home back from Krasnoy Solo, a suburb of St. Petersburg, to Chitka, in eastern Siberia, a distance of about 5,000 miles, according to the Norse Vremsa, accomplished a third of his journey, having arrived at Ufa. Kenko's enterprise is interesting not only on account of the great distance to be covered and the speed at which he was riding, but also because of the simplicity with which he is accomplishing his self-imposed task.

The horse is an Anglo-Arab, a descendant of the famous court Rostopchin's stud. He is not a young horse, but has all the qualities necessary to accomplish the task laid upon him. The saddle which he carries is of the ordinary rough type of the Cossack. The kit consists only of absolute necessities for rider and horse, and an extra set of harnesses, with shoeing implements. The master groom and shoe him himself, as necessary. Kenko expects to complete the entire distance in 150 days, 30 of which he reserves for halts. The horse and rider are reported to be in capital condition.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before prompt gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is no need of the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. Afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

The firm name will be Buckner & Owsley.

Owensboro intends to have a base ball club this season. The Messenger says, "Mr. J. F. Sheridan, who will manage the Owensboro base ball club, has closed a deal for the use of the Fair Grounds for the season of '96, which he will put in good condition. Mr. Edward Gans is President of the club. The towns anxious for a franchise are, Cairo, Ill., Jackson, Tenn., Paducah, Ky., Hopkinsville, Ky., Henderson, Ky., and Clarksville, Tenn., and, as it is an assured thing that Owensboro will be a member, and that the above named towns can all support a club, there appears to be no reason why it should not prove a success."

In Olden Times
People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

It is easy to humbug a man once. When he has been persuaded into buying cheap, inferior whisky he never finds it again if he can help it. Inferior whisky is disgusting, poisonous and unsatisfactory in every way. Besides it is dangerous to health and comfort. Don't buy whisky at random. The risk is too great. Get a high grade liquor that has been tested and proved. The L. W. HARPER, Nelson County, Ky. whisky has made a reputation by its excellence. It is invariably good and can always be depended upon.
